There is one convent occupied, pined by the sisters of Mercy, at Wilmington. There is also a monastery, belonging to the order of the Benedictine Fathers, situated 10 miles from Charlotte. They there keep a boys' school.

Agricultural Interest.

Washington said, in his eighth message to Congress:

"It is not to be doubted that with reference either to individual or national welfare, agriculture is of primary importance. In proportion as nations advance in population and other circumstances of maturity this truth becomes more apparent, and renders the cultivation of the soil more and more an object of public patronage. Institutions for preventing it grow up, supported by the public purse, and to what object can be dedicated with greater propriety?"

If these words were wise and true in the early years of our national life, they are doubly so in the light of the present day. Successful agriculture is the foundation of the substantial prosperity of the American people. Nothing indeed, but the enormous productive power of the United States prevented universal ruin from her wasting war, and her evil and corrupt financial legislation. But the farmers of the country have saved it from absolute bankruptcy.

Of the $896,000,000 dollars of exports during 1878, no less than $538,000,000 were due to agricultural products, being only about $160,000,000 from all the other industries of the country, to pay the bills of the nation, in the markets of the world.

If this interest is of vast importance throughout the country, with 51 per cent of population engaged therein, what must it be to North Carolina, in which nearly the entire mass of her population are directly engaged in farming and allied pursuits?

Whoever will take the trouble to examine the diagrams in the United States Agriculture reports, will be astonished to see the enormous advance in the amount of farm products since 1850, reaching far beyond the increase in ratio of population. He will upon investigation be forced to the conclusion that a great share of this improvement is due to better modes of cultivation, to labor saving machinery, to wise judgment in selection of crops, and indeed whatever pertains to increased skill in farming as a profession.

The work of agricultural clubs and societies, of periodicals of various kinds, and of late years, organized departments of State governments has already told immensely for the advantage of the country.

And whenever the greatest thrift now exists and the largest measure of personal comfort, there these means of utilizing and disseminating the knowledge of a few for the advantage of all, are most prized and cherished.

It was a fortunate day for North Carolina when her last General Assembly, moved by the memorial of the State Agricultural Society and other agricultural bodies in her borders, and by the State Grange of Patrons of Husbandry, seconded by the patriotic message of her Governor, resolved to establish the Department of Agriculture.

Nor was it less fortunate that the act directed so wise and effective a system of operations, and provided a mode of support adopted with such felicity, to remove the burden from the farmer, and to impose the tax in such manner, and with safeguards as to protect even the manufacturer who paid it, from fraudulent competition.

As our readers know, the Board of Agriculture established by the act, organized the Department, and commenced active operations by the election of officers in April 1877. We have before us the official report of the Commissioner, Col. L. L. Polk, containing matters of public interest which deserve more general attention than they have received.

He was placed in charge of his work, without books or models, and the organization from the beginning was necessarily experimental. In some regards the operations of the department as provided for in the act extend over a wider field than that of any similar branch of State Government in the Union. The machinery for its operations had to be constructed, and the work undertaken progressively, as means and facilities could be secured.

A system of correspondence was required to obtain the needed statistics, and to ascertain the immediate wishes of the people; the establishment of fish hatcheries and arrangements for the successful stocking of the waters of the State, the organization of the control of fertilizers; the preparation of a re-istry of lands and mines; the collection of a museum of the products of the several counties; the distribution of timely reports of growing crops, and of seeds and agricultural information to the people, and an exclusive correspondence with similar departments in other States—all these were new and unfamiliar duties, and it must be acknowledged that the measure of success with which they have been performed, is gratifying and satisfactory.

WE ARE requested by the Commissioner of Agriculture to state that the cash price per ton of "Baldwin & Co's. Ammoniated Dissolved Bone" should be $40 instead of $55, as appears in the published Analysis of Fertilizers for 1878, which has recently been republished. Papers throughout the State will please notice this in the interest of the farmers.

EVERYTHING seems to be going wrong in Europe just now. They have the plague in Russia, the small pox in Dublin, the reinderpest in Prussia and trouble and distress everywhere. The hard times have reached even Switzerland, which country is very seldom affected by panics and destitution. The general distress is worse in Prussia, Turkey and is just beginning in Sweden, Switzerland and great Britain. France alone of European countries is prosperous.

In his bust after "strange gods" Kenneth Royer has done nothing to reflect on the home of his hands. He now has a big fight on his hands. He has refused to approve the bill of the secret service division unless furnished with an itemized account of the expenditures of the department. The department refuses to do. This brings things to a dead-lock. It is believed, however, that Secretary Sherman will interfere and force his solicitor to succumb, as very many dark things are covered up by the pay-rolls of the secret service bureau, one of which, it is declared, is a contribution of about $40,000 to the Republican campaign fund. Mr. Royer is right, and the public, as well as Congress, will sustain him.

THE HOUSE has hearkened to the appeal of the people of the Pacific slope and passed an anti-Chinese bill to restrain and prevent the immigration of Chinese into this country. This bill obtained the respectable majority of eighty-three, a majority composed of both parties. California is sensible in having postponed the election of its Congressmen until September. Both parties are anxious to secure the California delegation, and Democrats and Republicans alike are willing to do anything to please the Californians just now. Hence the passage of this bill. As for the poor Chinese they have no representatives in Congress, and, therefore, have nothing to expect from that body.

MT. PLEASANT, CABARUS COUNTY, is aroused on the question of the Raleigh and Augusta Air Line extension. Mt. Pleasant urges the extension for the following reasons: (1.) The road would cross the Yadkin near the finest water-power in the State, and one of the finest in the United States. (2.) It would run through one of the best timbered sections in the State. (3.) It would run through the best grain and cotton-growing section of Cabarus county. (4.) It would run through Mt. Pleasant. (5.) It would open up the richest portion of the gold-bearing belt in the State.

The long-headed editor of the Charlotte Democrat rightly concludes that "extension would be a big trade to Charlotte."

TWO THOUSAND dollars is no small matter there days in the item of country expenses. The tax payers of Wake county can thank Judge Strong, the able and industrious Judge of the Criminal Court, and its popular Solicitor, Mr. Deaneau, Hard work and close attention to duty will tell in the administration of the courts elsewhere.

A BILL introduced in the New York Assembly contemplates the reduction of salaries of officials in New York city to amount of $2,000,000 for the present year, or twenty per cent. from the payments of 1877. Retrenchment in this direction is not peculiar to North Carolina.

WILL somebody tell us why Representatives should feel so badly because the press has given utterance to the popular opinion that salaries must come down? Some of these men talk as if neither press nor people had any right to an opinion on the subject. They will know better presently.

"NORTH CAROLINIAN," in another column is a leading citizen of Winston. The leading citizens of that town endorse "North Carolina." The News will publish whatever the people of North Carolina have to say on this subject.

WE ARE ready to repair any offense given our esteemed Charlotte contemporary, the Southern Home. That excellent paper never reaches the News office.

THE CRIMINAL Court of Wake county saves the tax payers of this county, according to exhibit elsewhere published, about $2,000.

THE NORTH CAROLINA tobacco grower pays his quota of the twenty-eight million dollars derived from the tax on tobacco.

YESTERDAY was an uneasy, restless day with the Senate and it adjourned after the dispatch of some routine business.

A Successful Career.

Yesterday's issue of our new Raleigh contemporary contained an interesting announcement to the effect that the paper has been leased for a number of years by Messrs. Jno. B. Hussey and Geo. C. Jordan, both of whom have been engaged in the editorial and business management of the paper for some time past. Capt. Hussey will assume the editorial duties, and Geo. C. Jordan will assume the business management of the paper, and it must be acknowledged that the measure of success with which they have been performed, is gratifying and satisfactory.

A Good Paper.

Messrs. John B. Hussey and Geo. C. Jordan have leased the Raleigh News for a term of years. Mr. Hussey is one of the most vigorous writers in the State and will make a good paper.

Energy that Deserves Success.

Messrs. J. B. Hussey and G. C. Jordan have leased the Raleigh News for a term of years, and that paper will be edited by Mr. Hussey, who has already proven himself one of the most fluent and spicy writers in the South, and whose facile pen will always engage the attention and excite the interest of the readers of our contemporary. We wish our friends all the success that their energy so much deserves.

Gold-bored and Enterprising.

The Raleigh News announces a change of management. The paper has been leased for a term of years by our clever friends, John B. Hussey, Esq., and Geo. C. Jordan, Esq., who purpose publishing it herewith as their own enterprise. We wish the new enterprise abundant success. Capt. Hussey is a facile, forcible writer, an experienced and well informed journalist, and a "Duplin county boy." Mr. Jordan has long been the ablest manager of the News, he is full of energy and enterprise.

A Defender of the People's Rights.

Tarboro Southern.

This thoroughbred and excellent Daily has been leased for a long term of years by John B. Hussey and Geo. C. Jordan. John B. Hussey is editor, a gentleman known to the profession as one of the clearest headed, soundest writers in the State. The News has been faithfully, in and out of season, for the interest of the people, and to save the people from oppressive taxation, its cry has been early, loud, and long. It has been a defender of the people's rights since the dawn of adversity. We trust its career upward and onward may be in flights of glorious prosperity. The Daily is only 15 years old—one of the oldest dailies in the South and within reach of every reader.

The North Carolina System.

Correspondence of the News.

WINSTON, N. C., Jan. 31.

"And you to Brutus."

Well the toast to "South Carolina and Virginia with a strip of land between." We love these States much, but North Carolina more. Much has been said and written in regard to internal improvements, but it does seem that it is a long process. One State has been spending money for years and years in building railroads for the development of other States and the support of cities outside of our State. North-eastern N. C. by her system of railroads has made tributary to Norfolk, Western N. C. will be made in the same manner tributary to Charleston, and now while we have bright hopes of connecting South-eastern N. C. with North-western N. C. already by State aid, and perhaps by rail, from Wilmington to Fayetteville and thence by rail via Egypt, the Coal Fields, the Ore Hill and the beautiful city of Greensboro to the most fertile town in the State. Winston, from which it is proposed to run three lines of narrow gauge, all in the interest and for the development of our State. One to run from Winston, South-west via Mocksville, through a rich and populous country to Monticello, another from Winston up the valley of the Yadkin, not excelled in fertility by any section in America to Patterson, and there connecting with the proposed road across the State, and the other line from Winston, North-west, topping the Valley of the Dan, through a rich mineral section as well as an agricultural belt, unsurpassed by any in the State to the Paradise of North Carolina—Mt. Airy. All tributary to our own city of Wilmington and receiving from her mechanics salt, molasses, sugar, rice, fish and tropical fruits, which come in her ports, and carrying them from Winston to the coast, distributing them to a large part of our State. As it were from fear that this system of roads might be built, and North Carolina have one city of her own, the Legislature has proposed to build a road from Winston to Winston, North-west, topping the Valley of the Dan, through a rich mineral section as well as an agricultural belt, unsurpassed by any in the State to the Paradise of North Carolina—Mt. The Deacon's Revenge.

It was a reverend pastor,
At peace with his Board of Deacons,
Except his Board of Deacons,
A thing you'll often find,
I know not why the quarrel
Between them up and down,
If the parson's views were heterodox
About—that place, you know,
Or if he kissed a deacon's wife,
Or a deacon's daughter fair;
No matter what the cause it was,
The quarrel fierce was there,
And the deacons met in council
Upon a way out.
That contumacious clergyman
To punish as was fit,
And one suggested a trial,
And a third would publish the scandal
In the papers with elat.
Up spoke an aged deacon
Whose curly hairs were white:
"Of all the plans ye have proposed
Not a single one is right.
"A church trial is a weary thing,
'Tis not right to law to go,
And there are, in the news papers,
Scandals quite enough, I trow.
"List, and I will unfold you
An admirable plan
Whereby we may revenge ourselves
On our wicked clergyman.
"Next week there is a fast-day,
All for the nation's sin;
We will not let a morsel
That day our lips go.
"And when the solemn evening comes,
And our appetites are hearty,
We will hold at that bad preacher's house
A big donation party."

Retrenchment.

Barbours Southerner.
With taxes we are burdened sore,
While the horse leech cries for "more;"
The earth is dry, no use to bore—
Let us our Solons now inspire
For legislative retrenchment.
They've socked the printers fierce and deep;
They've dug down in the salaries steep;
'Tis enough to make others weep;
The people all the while do keep Up 'em cry for retrenchment.

Taxes are bound to be reduced,
The galling bands must not be loosed,
Or the people's heads by the sheriff'll be noosed.

THE GENUINE
DR. C. McLANE'S

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternate with lux, the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation in the left side of the head, and sometimes a slight dizziness. A slight dry cough is sometimes an attendant.
The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low, and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it.
In fact, he distrusts every remedy.
Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, in cases of AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.
Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. C. McLANE'S
LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.
Insist upon having the genuine DR.
C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the only full and complete imitations of the name McLANE, spelled differently but same pronunciation.
